DESIGN COLLABORATIONS

MAT SANDERS

Referencing the brasseries of Paris, Danish modernists, and of course his California casual approach to luxury living, Mat Sanders x Studio•M presents a lighting collection that transcends both modern and traditional aesthetics by playfully mixing modern minimalism and elements grounded in classical forms. His interior design work has been featured in the homes for Hollywood's who's who and has graced the covers of publications such as Vogue, Harpers Bazaar, Architectural Digest, and Elle Decor among others. An expert in branding, Sanders also launched home lifestyle brands and channels for MyDomaine, Domino magazine, and Apartment Therapy.

NINA|MAGON

Understanding the needs of high-end interior designers working in the residential, commercial and hospitality sectors, Nina Magon's forward-thinking approach to design has delivered modern lighting creations that are strikingly refreshingly and uniquely sophisticated. Expertly crafted out of uniquely varied materials including dichroic glass, marble and genuine leather, the Nina Magon x Studio M collaboration is experiential luxury lighting. With many pieces available in Made-to-Order options, architects and designers gravitate to these pieces and Studio M's nimble capabilities to address their specification needs.

STUDIO•M

OUR STORY

Studio M is a signature lighting resource dedicated to creating avant garde interpretations of classic forms. Our lighting products integrate innovative design and master craftsmanship. These works respond to a conscious cultural shift where architecture, fashion, entertainment, and design interrelate. That's why Studio M houses a Designer Incubator program collaborating with some of the most esteemed talents in the industry to develop products in conjunction with the industry professionals shaping our architectural spaces.

The purposeful design is only complemented by the ability of the fixtures to perform. In addition to the variety of decorative styles available, Studio M provides consultation services through our dedicated Concierge team who can assist in product selection, project registration, and customizations.

These distinctive designer-series lighting products were made with the support of Maxim Lighting Group, a company that has defined lifestyle lighting for half a century. With a product offering that includes additional award-winning designs and products that are architecturally specifiable, Studio M has a complete curated line as well as services to accommodate the requests and meet the challenges of intricate project needs. Our team's knowledge, ability to perform, and foundational experience resulted in Studio M, where all your lighting requirements can be met and much more.

DECORATIVE LIGHTING

So much of our world is defined and elevated by lighting. The jewelry of the room can create dramatic silhouettes or provide the warm glow that welcomes in the senses and encourages connection and comfort. At Studio•M, we've been refining these cutting-edge lighting trends, and now it's time to introduce them into your own space. We offer the finishing touches you've been looking for in lighting.
